

Colorful Fine Art Photography on Display

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND – Cassandra Bazhaw will be returning to the Laguna Madre Art League's February Art Show with her colorful and uniquely beautiful display of fine art photography.

This show will be presented in conjunction with the February 2017 South Padre Island Market Days held at the SPI Convention Center.

The many visitors and art aficionados who came to the show in January were captivated by Cassandra's colorful, unique and eye catching artworks.

She presents these artworks in a variety of styles from high-end gallery quality wall art to fun coffee cups and all at prices that can accommodate almost any budget.

When asked about this she said, "I create my artwork to be enjoyed by my customers throughout the day, not just at a show.

That is why I try to present my works in a variety of styles that make it accessible to most everyone.

When they invest in an artwork from me I know that it will be enjoyed by them for many years. To me as an artist that is priceless."

Bold, colorful, creative and fun are words that are often repeated to describe Cassandra Bazhaw's body and style of artwork.

Her introspective and artistic mindset is readily evident in all her work and clearly demonstrates her unique ability to find beauty in simplicity and bring it to fine art reality.

In addition, the clever artwork titles that Cassandra tags to her artworks are always a treat and testament to her fun loving nature.

Cassandra Bazhaw, a native born Californian, currently maintains residences and studios in Washington and South Texas. Cassandra is an avid supporter of the arts.

She maintains memberships with the Laguna Madre Art League (Port Isabel) and the Upper Valley Art League (Mission) in Texas.

Mark your calendars for the Laguna Madre Art League's February Art Show and the opportunity to meet and talk with Cassandra at what is promising to be an exceptional showing of fine art by local artists.
